

Please do not alter the Wisconsin no-call list restrictions on corporations that wish to regain customers. The proposed change to the federal standard (of allowing a firm 18 months of calling to regain a customer who has discontinued the relationship) is not what the citizens of Wisconsin support. The 18-month standard is excessive.